A SUPER SCOPE .DOCTER CLASSIC 2.5-10X48

Docter Optics: Classic Riflescopes

For years our riflescopes have been made to the highest optical and mechanical standards. They are the results of many years experience in modelling optical system's with the finest image reproduction. The optical systems of all DOCTER optics riflescopes are factory adjusted to be parallax-free to 100m. The image-inversion system ensures that the reticle remains centred in the field of vision, even after subsequent adjustment (centred reticle).

The reliability of riflescopes is not affected by even the most extreme climate conditions DOCTER riflescopes are permanently shockproof and reliable, thanks to the precision mounting of their optical system.

The adjustment range of any reticle can be varied in one direction without affecting the others. The precision adjustment system guarantees exact click adjustment and reproducible sight settings.
